Subject: The Power to Bring a change in Society

The following report is to express the undersigned^{'s} ~~is~~ research about how a positive change can be brought to society and how it can become a safer and better place.

This includes how different organisations and campaigns have a helped in bringing an impact, alongside how one can take part in such activities, considering ~~some~~ some difficulties a few may face, and their solutions.

a) Connecting on socials.

Almost everyone has social media, including children aged ~~4-10~~ four years old. 87.75% of children own Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat and several other platforms.

~~With~~

With the rising social issues, they can stand up and raise their voices ~~out~~ through their screens.

Many individuals have already brought an impact this way. For example, talking about ~~BEI~~ 'equality for women' etc.

b) NGO's

Students and many individuals have started their own NGO's for different matters, including:

- education
- charity
- providing different necessities
- food, and much more.

~~One such~~

~~A Khair-e-Pakistan~~

1) Khair-e-Pasbaan:

This NGO has come up with an initiative to help those in need and deprived of food.

They have 'food drives' everyday, and provide the poor with dishes (free of cost), and make sure they get enough.

Alongside that, they provide clothing to the unfortunate, along with blankets and mattresses for winters.

2) Ikhlaq:

Similar to Khair-e-Pasbaan, their initiative is also to be there for the unfortunate ones.

They do so by educating ~~these~~ ~~those~~ those who can't afford it, giving them books/stationery/copies and whatever they may need.

With this, they renew schools by raising money and providing them with it, or by doing it themselves.

Many people are encouraged to take part in it and bring about a change to this harsh society.

The undersigned herself is part of this ~~org~~ non-profitable organisation in order to bring an impact.

c) Raising awareness:

There are several social issues. Racism, gender & inequality, ageism, social stigma ~~is~~ and class etc.

People differentiate one another by this, and think low of others. These social issues have damaged society, but luckily there are many who also see the difference between right and ~~right~~ wrong, and raise awareness, especially through campaigns.

Many have stood up and decided to educate others on these topics, they shared their history and where they are voted from, and much more.

Eventually, this has positively impacted society. They have become aware of these certain issues and are further taking part in helping the cause.

d) How to take part:

The addressee can take part by the following:

- Donation - Donate money / food / clothes / shoes and other essential products to the poor.

↳ • Start Charity Events - Raise money and gather things so ~~of~~ the unfortunate can benefit from it

• Educating the Youth - Provide the young people with knowledge regarding ~~of~~ the social issues (which include, racism, feminism, gender inequality ~~and~~ etc.)

• Joining NGO's.

e) Why it may be difficult to take part:

Many themselves are part of the unfortunate, hence not being able to take part to their fullest.

Others may not have every necessity, such as phones or other devices, hence not having the privilege to connect on social media, and gain and spread awareness.

f2) How can they take part:

Bringing a positive difference in society is not limited to one thing. There are several methods and options available for them to take part, many being the ones mentioned above.

g) Recommendations:

Government programmes can be carried out by groups/individually.

Bringing these positive changes in society is what will help it, and make it a safer space for everyone.

It is hoped that the addressee finds the above information relevant and useful, and further the cause to benefit from it and bring a suitable change.
